essay from the year 2007 in the subject politics region western europe grade a 1 0 1st mark university of london language english abstract conventionally social cleavages have been widely accepted as the prime determinant in the voting behaviour of electors in the western world in largely religious countries christianity was seen as main factor of people s voting pattern whereas in secular western countries social class was regarded as the strongest influence however in recent decades the prediction of electoral behaviour has become more and more problematic as religious faith has declined and the traditional contrast of social classes began to be more difficult to distinguish this essay will examine the impact of religion and social class as well as the increasing influx of ultra right parties and influence of the growing number of ethnic minorities on voting behaviour in germany and france and will attempt to demonstrate that despite the former importance of religion and the changes of society during the post war period the fundamental influence on voting behaviour is social class in both countries

how is religion portrayed on prime time entertainment television and what effect does this have on our society this book brings together the opinions of all the important factions involved in this important public policy debate including religious figures christians jews muslims buddhists and freethinkers liberal and conservative academics media critics and journalists and representatives of the entertainment industry the debate provides contrasting views on how much and what type of religion should be on entertainment television and what relationship this has with the health of our society many contributors also offer strategies for how to reform the present situation this is an important work that delineates the debate for the layperson as well as researchers scholars and policymakers over the past decade a strident public debate has arisen about the nature and origin of religions controversies include how exactly religion evolved whether by individual or group selection if it is adaptive and if not whether and how it is a side effect of evolution this volume focuses on the issue of naturalizing religion on the ways in which cognitive science and social sciences have treated religion as a natural phenomenon it questions whether religious behaviour institutions and experiences can be explained in natural terms the editor brings together some of the best published work on the definition of religion intelligent design and the evolution of religion
